

Nekia Foxx, known as the TRANSFORMATION ENGINEER, specializes in transforming individuals from the inside out. As an International Speaker, bestselling author, and successful Businesswoman, Nekia has utilized her expertise to guide students towards financial prosperity and self-improvement as a program facilitator for Cents in a Jar.

A prominent figure in both the Business and Beauty Industries, Nekia is recognized for her visionary clarity and empowering approach. Combining her skills as a master stylist with a background in construction and civil engineering, she is the CEO and founder of Nekia Foxx & Company. This establishment empowers women by providing them with the knowledge and tools to enhance self-worth, self-esteem, confidence, and clarity, transitioning them from a mindset of scarcity to abundance.

Hailing from Florida, Nekia earned her Bachelor's in Construction Engineering and a Minor in Civil Engineering from Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University (FAMU). She also holds a Technical Degree as a Board Certified Cosmetologist from Indian River State College, along with a Master's in Business Administration and a PMP certification, showcasing her diverse expertise and qualifications.

nfoxx@8cents.org

P.O. Box 8 Apopka FL 32704

321-218-2684